

Project number: 2023-1-MK01-KA220-VET-000154804

As our project comes to a close, we take a moment to reflect on our inspiring journey of creativity, collaboration, and commitment to sustainability.

Over the past years, partners from North Macedonia, Greece, Cyprus, Lithuania and Poland have worked hand in hand to explore how art can be a powerful driver of environmental responsibility and community engagement.

Together,

we have created tools, resources, and experiences that will continue to inspire

artists and creative professionals

long after this project ends.

Highlights & Achievements

From our short film capturing artists' voices on sustainability, to the asynchronous seminar offering flexible, in-depth learning, INTERACTION has produced impactful results:

6 learning modules for sustainable art practices

1 short documentary film introducing the project, partners, and artistic ateliers

An entrepreneurial canvas to help artists design sustainable creative projects

An e-platform showcasing artistic competencies and project results

Artistic ateliers in Greece, Cyprus, Lithuania, and North Macedonia, where creativity and sustainability met in hands-on workshops.

As we close this chapter, we invite you to revisit our work and share it with your networks:

Continuing the Movement

Sustainability in art is not a trend—it's a movement. Keep learning, sharing, and practicing eco-friendly creativity. The resources developed during INTERACTION are free and open to all. Visit our website, follow our channels (Facebook, Instagram, Youtube) and be part of shaping a greener cultural future.

The INTERACTION team would like to thank every person who supported our journey.

From the very first idea to our final creations, this project has been a shared adventure filled with passion, learning, and collaboration.

Through our meetings, discussions, and creative moments together, we built not just tools and workshops — but strong bonds across countries, disciplines, and visions.

Thank you for being part of the INTERACTION story.

The journey doesn't end here — let's keep creating for a more sustainable, connected world.

Art has the power to inspire, unite, and transform.

Let's carry forward the vision of INTERACTION,
where creativity meets responsibility,
to create a brighter, greener tomorrow
